LPL Financial and Private Advisor Group Jointly Create College Internship Program

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 02, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Leading retail investment advisory firm and independent broker/dealer LPL Financial LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of LPL Financial Holdings Inc. (NASDAQ:LPLA), today announced that it has developed a college internship program together with Private Advisor Group, one of the largest firms on LPL's hybrid RIA platform with more than 550 advisors in 32 states.

Designed to help cultivate the next generation of financial advisors, the internship program will initially be offered to about 20 undergraduate students at Villanova University (Philadelphia). Through the program, students will gain valuable work experience and exposure to the financial services industry as they learn the importance of financial planning and attain a greater understanding of LPL's extensive advisor tools and resources. Upon starting the internship program, each student will complete an online training program to become certified to use the firm's innovative technology that helps financial advisors transition their business to a digital office.

"We are excited to work with Private Advisor Group to pilot this program and show students firsthand how independent financial advisors can help Americans strive to reach their financial goals," said Jen Gloss, senior vice president of Client Experience & Training. "The program is designed to provide students with the skills necessary to quickly become a valuable asset for financial advisor offices that are looking to further embrace LPL's digital offerings and increase their office efficiency."

"We are honored to collaborate with LPL to expose students to our profession early on in their career development so they can be strong champions for the independent advice model for the next generation," said Abby Salameh, chief marketing officer at Private Advisor Group. "This internship program seeks to create a supportive learning environment for college students interested in becoming a financial advisor."

The program is now accepting applications. For more information about the program, contact Private Advisor Group's Abby Salameh at (973) 867-1354 and abby.salameh@privateadvisorgroup.com.
